A BUSY SCENE

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.] ALEXANDRIA, VA., September 17.—The scene at the Democratic headquarters here to-day was a busyone. J. Hoge Tyler and R. Taylor Scott, with General W. H. F. Lee and General William H. Payne, spent a considerable portion of the day there, Mr. Tyler remaining all day. All these gentlemen concur in pronouncing the outlook to be of the most favorable character, yet not such as would authorize the outdook to be on the most outdook character, yet not such as would authorize any lethargy or cessation of work. They think that the most complete local organization in all the counties is essential to zation in all the counties is essential to such a triumph as will bury Mahone beyond the hand of political resurrection. Mr. Scott left this afternoon and Mr. Tyler to-night to continue the canvass. Mr. Tyler expressed to the Disvalch representative the great satisfaction he enjoyed in his one day's rest at Alexandria.

Mr. James R. Fisher, of the House of Representatives post-office, paid a visit to headquarters to-day. APPOINTMENTS TO SPEAK.

The speech fell flat on his sable hearers, and no enthusiasm was created. A look of bewilderment pervaded the motley crowd. The few white Republicans appeared actually eshamed of the entire performance.

introduction of cotton-bagging as a substi-tute for baling cotton. The latter system is a new one, and the farmers are unable as yet to prepare the material on account of the failure of the factories to supply the demand. Increased facilities are being rapidly adopted for turning it out, and be-fore long cotton-bagging will entirely sup-plant jute, notwithstanding that a loss of fif-ity cents or $1 per bale is sustained by those phant jute, notwithstanding that aloss of the ty cents or $1 per bale is sustained by those who use cotton-bagging. One of the Principals Dies from the Blows Received.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

St. Louis, September 17.—A brutal prizefich occurred at the saloon of Daily Brothers, local bruisers of considerable note, which has resulted in the death of Thomas E. Jackson, aged eighten years.

He fought Ed. Ahearn, a local light-weight champion, eleven bloody rounds, and at the opening of the twelfth fell fainting in his seconds arms. The fight throughout was one of the most deperate battles ever witnessed in a ring, science being lost sight of and give and take slugging marking the fight throughout. The first blood was brought in the first round, more of it in the second, and by the time half a dozen rounds had been fought the men and their seconds were covered with blood, as was the sawdust on the floor of the ring, while the water with which the fighters were sponged was as red as blood itself. When Jackson fell unconscious he was carried to a room above Dailey's saloon and three physicians called in. They worked vigorously but without avail, and at Hocloek this morning Jackson died. He was the son of a well-known local Greenbacker. The affair has created intense excitement, as prominent people will likely become involved. The referee was the sporting editor of a leading merting paper. The spectators were principally pool-ailey sports who made up a purse of $90, for which the men, or rather boys, contended. Two-ounce hard gloves were used. Bob Farrell and Charley Dailey seconded Ahearn, and Steve Burns and Mike Mooney looked after Jackson, The fight started at midnight, and the eleven bloody romads and the party and the election of the part Ahearn, and Steve Burns and Mike Mooney Ahearn, and Steve Burns and Mike Mooney looked after Jackson. The fight started at midnight, and the eleven bloody rounds can be described as wholly without science. The crowd of sports sneaked out and left the battered fighter on Charley and left the distortion of Mr. William C. and left the battered fighter on Charley Dailey's hands. Dailey, who has fought some well-known sluggers, among them Myers, the Streator (Iil.) puglist who made a draw with the light-weight champion McAuliffe, did all he could for the dying boy, but without avail. The dead ghadiator's body now lies in a room
over the saloon where he fought, his face unrecognizable, and his mother and two brothers alone with their dead, while Chief-of-Police Haebler has ordered the arrest of all the parties concerned in the affair. Jackson was well known in fighting direles as "Jack King," and his parents were ignorant of his puglistic ambition.

Mr. F. R. Lassiter, city attorney, was well any a committee of the company, which was recently made vacant by the resignation of the commanding officer. It is understood that Mr. Lassiter Chief-of-Police Haebler has ordered the affair. Jackson was well known in fighting direles as "Jack King," and his parents were ignorant of his puglistic ambition.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]
Chase City, Va., September 17, 1889.
An immense crowd attended County Court yesterday. Never was such a vast assemblage within the court-house walls. It had been previously advertised that the Hon, C. T. O'Ferrall would address the people, and they came from every portion of this large county. He was gracefully introduced by County-Chairman W. T. Atkins, and his fine personal appearance and splendid delivery at once captivated the audience. He made a grand and effective speech. His arraignment of the Republican party and its candidates was terrific. The enthusiasm was unbounded, and the greeting and appliause given this distinguished champion of Demogracy evinced the dean.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch) BURLINGTON, Iowa, September 17.—Deputy-Sheriff Tate, upon entering a cell in the Fremont county prison at Siduey, Ia, yesterday, was jumped on and nearly pounded to death with a chair leg by a convict named Haynes. The convict sethe officer dead but for the intervention of another prisoner. Haynes was in the act of unlocking the prison door and escaning when the other officers, hearing the noise, rushed upon him and overpowered him. Tate's condition is critical, and should he die there is such excitement that Haynes may meet death by lynching.
